H. B. KIRK &

WITH PLATT'S BLESSING.

Now that President Roosevelt has nom-

to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister

Plenipotentiary to Paraguay and Uruguay,

A year ago, when John F. O'Brien, Secre-

Tioga chieftain the Republican State comin place of Depew, Odell promised-it be-back upon the friend of a lifetime. Walter for the Twenty-sixth district, John F.

taking the place himself from his bene-

At that time Edward C. O'Brien was a the Panama Commission while he was alive and in the Senate. Senator Platt had suc-ceeded the late Senator Hanna as char-man of the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals. Nobody could budge Sena-tor Platt from his decision in this matter. A little later Mr. Odell, then Governor of the State, was in Washington, and he told President Rossevelt that he thought Ed-

President Roosevelt then made it very

SCARED INTO MAINTENANCE.

Curious Defence of Lavourin V. Innes in a Suit for Separation.

Mrs. Caroline Green Innes is suing Lavourin Victor Innes for separation before Supreme Court Justice Leventritt. There is also a case of bigamy pending against

Innes, for some time after his alleged common law marriage with Caroline Green

At the hearing yesterday Innes set up the defence that he had been maintaining the woman because she and her late hus-hand, Horace Green, had him terrified. According to his testimony, he met her first in her husband's restaurant. He was in-cautious enough to drop some details of a lawsuit in which his family was involved. One night, after he had known her a long

One night, after he had known her a long time, they were in the kitchen of the restaurant together. Horace Green was wanted by the police at the time, and was hiding in the basement of a church at Eleventh street and Fifth avenue. Innes threatened to give him up to the police. Thereupon, the plaintiff says, Mrs. Green lured Innes into the basement of the restant of the restaurant of the lured lines into the basement of the restaurant, where Green jumped out from behind a barrel, pressed a pistol against him and threatened to shoot unless he promised to support the woman.

Green died a few years later. After that, Innes testified, Mrs. Green held over him her knowledge of the family lawsuit, threatening to wreck the case unless he kept up his support. Finally she insisted on taking his name, and he was afraid to refuse her the privilege.

Mrs. Innes had a witness to swear that Innes had introduced her as his wife. The case will be continued to-day.

HAWAIIAN HELD AS CROOK.

Kapea to Be Extradited From London to Honolulu on Charge of Swindling.

The Pinkerton Detective Agency was advised last evening, by its London representative of the arrest in that city of Henry

K. Kapea, alias Kentwell, alias Blake,

K. Kapea, alias Kentwell, alias Blake, charged with having embezzled funds from the Hawaiian Trust Company, Limited, of Honolulu. Kapea encircled half the globe endeavoring to get away from his pursuers. He sailed from Honolulu on the steamship China on March 5, 1904, to Yokohama, Japan, thence to Kobe, thence to Hong Kong, thence to Shanghai.

The Pinkertons, representing the American Bankers' Association and cooperating with J. R. Galt, treasurer of the Hawaiian Trust Company, who is now in this city, took up the search for Kapes, and located him in London. He is now held pending the arrival of extradition papers.

Kapea is a good looking, straight haired, dark Hawaiian. It is alleged that he has accumulated considerable money during his flight by fleecing fellow passengers at card games.

tangible.

WE can help any Manu-facturer do two im-

(1) Put his Selling and Advertising on a basis which is really business-like—and

(2) Get from 5 to 50% more Results with the present appropriation - or get the same Results with from 5 to 50%

Plenty of proof and details

ess appropriation.

portant things:-

Innes he married Clarissa Sickles.

factor.

nittee-Black to be United States Senator

ne necessary for John F. to turn his

Witherbee of Plattsburg, and defeat

Witherbee for State committeeman

Whiskey

Earth

Tieling from Fushan. A battle at Tieling appears to be inevitable. The fortifications there are the last hope of the Russians. SAYS BUSSIANS SHELLED WOUNDED.

LONDON, March 14.-A delayed despatch from a correspondent at Gen. Oku's headquarters, dated March 8, says:

"I have personally seen wounded men being carried across a plain shelled by Russians. This morning they shelled a large party of stretcher bearers till they were out of range. Yesterday hospital carts crossing the field were plainly followed with a fire of shrappel for over a mile. Military attacives can testify to this."

A correspondent with the army of Gen Euroki, commanding the right wing of the Japanese forces, says in a despatch dated Monday that the greater part of what remains of the Russian army is supposed to have reached Tieling. The Japanese have had frequent encounters with their rear guard. The correspondent adds that if the Russians intend to retire to Harbin it must be assumed that they have already withdrawn their supplies from Tieling, as there is none between there and Harbin to feed the troops en route.

JAPANESE AT PAN BIVES. LONDON, March 15 .- So far as the scanty news received enables one to judge the Japanese have not yet advanced on Tieling. It is supposed that the foremost Japanese detachments are lingering on the south bank of the Fan River, ten miles south of Tieling. The Russian rear guard is possibly holding

The Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph says that since it was discovered that the garrison at Tieling numbers 50,000 men the question is being discussed whether to make an immediate advance or to give the Japanese armies a rest. The correspondent transmits a report that Gen. Bilderling has been killed.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Chronicle says that Gens. Bilderling, Linievitch and Kaulbars have reached

RUSSIAN LOAN HELD UP. French Capitalists Unwilling to Agree on Terms at This Time.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS, March 14 .- A despatch to the Echo de Paris from St. Petersburg states that the French financial delegates have been unable to agree with the representatives of Russia and that the issue of the contemplated Russian loan of $120,000,000 has been postponed.

The Temps says: 'Considering the uncertainty existing here respecting events in Manchuria and Russia's intentions with regard to the continuation of the war, it was natural that our banks and lending societies should refuse to sign to-day the contract concluded respecting the new loan to Russia, which matter has now been adjourned until the situation of Russia has been cleared up and sundry apaisements have been given the financial world of the French Republic."

While the best independent information conours in stating that the floating of the loan has been indefinitely postponed or, in other words, refused, it is semi-officially declared that the completion of the agreement has been only deferred for a fortnight, when the loan will be issued on the terms already definitely agreed upon. The postponement caused a sensation at the bourse. Russian securities dropped, but recovered later, consols closing with a fall of only 50 centimes, while 3 per cents. closed 20 centimes higher. It is rumored without confirmation that Russia will make another appeal for a loan to German finanto a standstill. The garrison consists of only 4,000 men. The stege guns and most of the soldiers have been sent northward. A few large guns have been mounted here and there to protect the city.

NO WORK AT PORT ARTHUR.

The ruined docks and the sunken Russian warships are untouched.

Chinese Tie Up a Railway.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. NEWCHWANG, March 14.-The Chinese authorities have stopped traffic on the Yingkow-Kaopantse-Sinmintung section of the Imperial Railway and have removed the rolling stock to Kinchau for the present, because the Japanese have been using the road for the transportation of military supplies. The Japanese reserve their reply to this action of the railway directors, and say that it has not embarrassed them.

STRIKERS BURN NINE SHOPS. Torch Used at Kharkoff and Several Persons Are Injured.

Special Cable Despaiches to THE SUN. KHAREOFF, March 14.-Nine shops and the Susdal Arcade were burned to-day. The damage was $500,000. The cause, it is feared, was incendiarism. Nine persons were injured. ST. PETERSBURG, March 14.—Only sixteen thousand workmen are still out on strike.

New Vicercy of the Caucasus Named.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. St. PETERSBURG, March 14.—Count Vorensoff Dashkoff has been appointed Viceroy of the Caucasus.

RELIEF FOR ANDALUSIA.

Spanish Government Appropriates $400,-000-Drought Caused Distress.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

MADBID, March 14.—The Government will devote $400,000 to the relief of the distress in Andalusia, caused by the prolonged drought. Disturbances are ported in the provinces of Cordova, Malaga, Seville and Cadiz, which form a portion of Andalusia

Bettle's Long Ocean Trip.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. SOUTHAMPTON, March 14 .- A bottle that United States Consul Albert W. Swalm of Southampton threw overboard while in atitude 29.30 north, longitude 68.10 west, in May, 1903, has been washed ashore on the coast of Donegal, Ireland. It had been carried by the Gulf Stream from the North American coast across the Atlantic Ocean at a rate approximating five miles a day for 662 days. The United States Hydrographic Office will be notified.

Queen Alexandra Starts for Lisbon. Special Cable Desputch to THE SUR. LONDON, March 14.-Queen Alexandra and her daughter, the Princess Victoria, left to-day on their way to Lisbon, where shey and the King are going to pay a visit to the King of Portugal.

The L. B. expansive bookcase is entirely different from the hideous box units.

It is a solid upright book case of five shelves, built on exquisite lines and showing no sign of its expansion construction. Yet by the simplest operation its capacity can be increased at will.

Without doors, with glass doors, with leaded glass doors, quartered oak or mahogany.

Library Bureau 26 Salesrooms, 6 Factories 316 Broadway.

CITY TRAIN SERVICE BETTER.

MORE STRIKERS BEING TAKEN BACK; MANY SEEKING JOBS.

President Belmont's Congratulations on Their Conduct Received by Messrs. Bryan and Hedley-He's Sorry for the Men, but Can't Pay Them the Old Wages

The subway and elevated railroad service improved yesterday, though it was, of course, still irregular in comparison with that before the strike. In the subway express trains ran at fair intervals. On the elevated there were no more trains than on Monday, but their speed was accelerated. On the West Side lines, which were in the worst shape, the intervals between trains early in the day ranged from one minute to twenty-four. In the evening rush hour trains on the Sixth avenue line were crowded so that some gates could not be opened and men were clinging on behind.

The largest batch of applicants for work that has yet appeared crowded into the Park Row Building. Ninety per cent. of them were returning strikers and it took six extra policemen to keep them in line. They were all ready to go back as new men, but nearly all who went before Assistant Manager Keegan in Mr. Hedley's office yesterday were merely allowed to make applications. About 300 more strikers were reemployed, making about 1,000 in all.

reemployed, making about 1,000 in all.
About 5,500 men are at work on the roads, but some of Farley's men who are chronic birds of passage are preparing to go already.
President August Belmont of the Interborough spent his first day in town at his office in Nassau street. His first conference was with Vice-President Bryan and General Manager Hedley, whom he congratulated on their management of the strike.
Mr. Belmont declined to be interviewed, but a statement was made on his behalf to the effect that he did not consider that the

but a statement was made on his behalf to the effect that he did not consider that the rules of the Civic Federation, of which he is president, bind him morally or otherwise to agree to demands made in deliberate violation of an agreement or to yield to arbitary action of men in his company taken in violation of the principles of arbitration; therefore he will remain in the Civic Fede-ration. Mr. Belmont, it was said for him, "is sorry that the returning motormen for "is sorry that the returning motormen for whom vacancies will be found will have to take lower wages," but he will not break the regulation of the company and give them back the old wages.

C. B. Alves, one of Strike Breaker Farler's lieutenants, was at the offices of the ley's lieutenants, was at the offices of the company for a short time yesterday. He said that 4,500 men had been brought here by Farley, and most of these remained at work, but some lost their nerve and at work, but some lost their herve and went away the first day. According to Alves, the strike breakers are getting a premium over the regular wages, making these equal to the wages of employees in their second year.

George E. Pepper was still addressing strikers in Marion Hall yesterday. Barely twenty men stayed to listen to him. Mr. Pepper has decided to have to-day an al day meeting of himself and such others! as may come, to decide what shall be done about the strike that has been about the strike that has been

THE ALDERMEN BUTT IN It was inevitable that the Aldermen would not allow yesterday's meeting of the board to pass without having some-## Cook and Clark searched for the letters. The board to pass without having something to say on the strike. Two resolutions were introduced. One was framed in the interests of the strikers by requesting the company "to secure at once such experienced men as will restore to the travelling to some along some letters. The prosecutor stated positively that the State enced men as will restore to the travelling to source at once such experienced men as will restore to the travelling to source at the company "to secure at once such experienced men as will restore to the travelling to say on the strike. Two resolutions were introduced. One was framed in the interests of the strikers by requesting the company "to secure at once such experienced men as will restore to the travelling to some letters. The prosecutor stated positively that the State had no other letters, and the Cook and Clark searched for the letters. The prosecutor stated positively that the State had no other letters, and the Cook and Clark searched for the letters.

Cook and Clark searched for the letters.

Cook and Clark searched for the letters.

Cook and Clark searched for the litters.

Cook and Clark searched for the letters.

Cook and Clark searched for the litters.

Cook and Clark searched for the litters.

Cook and Clark searched for the litters.

Cook and Clark searched for the lit

"BUTTERFLY MARQUIS" DEAD.

Anglesey Had Spent an Immense Fortune in a Glddy Life.

Special Cable Despaich to THE SUN.

LONDON, March 14.—The Marquis of Anglesey, who went to Monte Carlo several weeks ago with a system of his own invention with which he hoped to break the bank. but who was taken seriously ill in the early part of this month, died at Monte Carlo today. The cause of his death was consump-

The fifth Marquis of Anglesey, "The Butterfly Marquis," was one of the most picturesque spendthrifts of the age. Since he inherited the title and estates, in 1898, he had run into practical bankruptoy a property whose value when he took it was estimated at $500,000 a year.

Henry Cyril, Earl of Uxbridge, Baron Paget and Marquis of Anglesey, was born in 1875 of the fourth Marquis and an Irish mother, and succeeded in 1898. He had numerous quarrels with his father, and always held over him as a club a threat to go on the stage. Once he made good by performing in a series of living pictures in Dresden.

When he came into his inheritance be

Dresden.

When he came into his inheritance he made over the chapel of his family seat into a theatre. There he gave every year a Christmas pantomime in which he took a leading part. The other actors were professionals. In the performance of 1901 he gave a "jewel dance" and in the following year a "snow dance." wearing both times his famous jewels, for which he paid a fortune. When the crash came he owed about $200,000 for jewelry bought in Paris. Twice he went on the road with a theatrical company of his own.

company of his own.

His personal expenses were enormous.

His perfumed baths, his suspenders of woven gold thread and the effeminate costumes which he wore in his boudoir were tumes which he wore in his boudoir were the talk of Europe.

The estate went to pleoes last year. The creditors decided not to drive him into bankruptcy, but to make a settlement by which the income of the estate would pay off the debts in nine years. He was put on an income of $10,000 a year; he was already paying his wife, from whom he had separated, $75,000 a year. His jewels, his startling effects in underwear and waistcoats, even his gold thread suspenders, went under the hammer.

the hammer.
In December he announced that he had an December he announced that he had raised $50,000 from his friends and started for Monte Carlo to break the bank on a "sure thing" system of his own invention. It is thought that this was only a modification of D'Alembert's famous system, which has been tried and found wanting.

The stepmother of the late "Butterfly Marquis" was a Miss Mary Livingstone King of Sandhills, Ga. She married the fourth Marquis after the death of his fourth Marquis after the market of The second wife, who was the mother of "The Butterfly."

Headaches and Neuralgia From Colds Laxative Bromo Quinine, the wrid wide Cold and Grip remedy, removes the cause. Call for the full name and look for signature of E. W. Grove. 25c. —Ade.

CORDOVA IS FOUND GUILTY.

JURY CONVICTS PASTOR AFTER SIX HOURS DELIBERATION.

The Charge Was Abandonment, and He'll Be Tried Again for Assaulting His Wife-Wouldn't Tell of his Relations With Julia Bowne-Wrote Verses to Her

NEW BRUNSWICE, N. J., March 14 .- The jury which has been hearing the evidence against J. Frank Cordova, the former South River pastor, on the charge of abandoning his wife, came in at 10 o'clock to-night with a verdict of guilty. The case went to the jury at 40'clock, and an hour later the jurors came into court and reported that they could not agree. Judge Woodbridge Strong sent them back to deliberate further.

That the jury took so long to reach a verdict was a surprise. Abandonment is punishable in New Jersey under a recent law by one year in prison or $500 fine.

Cordova's defencewas that his wife had asked him to leave, that he had supported her since to the best of his means and that if there had been any desertion it did not take place in Middlesex county, in which he is being tried.

To-morrow Cordova goes into the prisoners' dock again before another jury. The charge is assault upon Mrs. Cordova. She alleges he beat her while in a rage over charges she made against Miss Bowns. The jury in this case has already been impanelled. Prosecutor George Berdine, in his summing up, pictured Cordova as a perse-cuted fellow, neglected by the woman who had borne him three children, fleeing because he had a wretched home.

Cook that a man may leave his wife for "Mr. Cook is not married," said the Prosecutor. "The young lady who is honored with his attentions now—"

He ridiculed the doctrine of Lawyer

Mr. Cook objected to having his personal affairs drawn into the case and the Prosecutor did not continue.

Cordova spent a very uncomfortable time on the witness stand this morning in his own defence. He fought against mentioning the name of Julia Bowne, the girl with whom he eloped twice. The prosecutor tried time and time again to get him to tell who had travelled with him: whether he had spent any money on any one else, and even produced a bill made out in Cordova's name showing that he had bought female attire at a Philadelphia store. To all questions along this line Cordova refused to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Cordova told of going to Philadelphia, Washington and New Mexico. He refused to say if any one accompanied him or if he paid the expenses of the one who was

The Prosecutor showed Cordova a bill of Charles Herman of South River for groceries and asked him if he knew about it.

"I will not answer that unless I am per-"I will not answer that unless I am permitted to tell all about the circumstances. There are some things that cannot be answered with a 'yes' or 'no,' " replied Cordova. "Suppose I asked you if you had stopped beating your wife; you could not answer it with 'yes' or 'no."

"You can't ask me that." replied the Prosecutor. "I might ask you that pertinently, though."

"If you should say 'no.' it would indicate that you are beating your wife, and if you should answer 'yes," that you had once beaten her."

The explanation of the witness amused

The explanation of the witness amused the courtroom.

The Court ruled out letters 'h Mrs. Cordova had written to her huc't while he was in New Mexico, the letters nding to show the forgiveness of the wife, the Court holding that the State of New Jersey was prosecuting Cordova, not his wife, and that, even if she did forgive him, it would have no bearing on the case. have no bearing on the case. Cordova said that he had left $700 worth of personal property and that his wife had secured the proceeds from its sale. "How do you know that?" demanded the Prosecutor.

"I have it in her letters and I know by witnesses in court," he replied. The Court held that the letters were the best evidence and that they would have to be pro-

There was a long delay while Lawyers

Cordova has been meek and submissive on the stand, but there was a moment right after the adjournment of court at noon when he was angry. A photographer ran ahead of him and tried to get a picture of him as he was being led back to jail. Cordova sought to hide his face with his hat, and when the photographer accidentally dropped a slide from his camera, the ex-minister smashed it into splinters with vigorous kicks. That act pleased the prisoner more than anything since he has been in jail, excepting the time he had an opportunity to throw kisses to Miss Bowne. She is still in jail. The State finished with her last night, and she will probably be formally discharged from custody. It is doubtful if the girl will go to her home. She has pleaded to be permitted to remain in jail until Cordova is released.

To a reporter who asked Mrs. J. F. Cordova in the Judge's room at the court house to-day, if she intended to seek a divorce from Cordova, she said that she wouldn't give him that satisfaction.

Desperate as was his love for Julia Bowne, Cordova, also found time to write love. Desperate as was his love for Julia Bowne, Cordova also found time to write love letters to his wife. These letters have been turned over to Prosecutor Berdine. The Prosecutor also has some fervent verses written by the versatile ex-parson in jail and dedicated to Miss Bowne. To his wife he wrote:

his wife he wrote:

Dear—oh, darling!—I am so anxious for just one little word of pardon; forgive me for baby's sake and say to me "Frank, I forgive you for our own three babies'sake: come to us." May God have mercy on me and spare our baby. " " Perhaps you think me bold to address you this way after all that has passed. For God's sake have mercy on me just once more. If not, I may die soon. I don't think I lose flesh, but I am getting grayer all the time, and careless. I don't polish my shoes or wash my teeth.

The verses to Miss Rowns was in the contraction of the same and careless.

The verses to Miss Bowne were inspired, he says, by some words of the jail chaplain. They follow:

They follow:

Though prison walls and prison bars
Keep mated souls apart,
To languish 'mid the dark and gloom,
And crush the loving heart,
Tis but a penance dear,
And we must keep up our good cheer,
For God on high is love itself
And help from Him is near.
He is not harsh and well he knows
That by some accident
A circumstance will cause a soul
With anguish to be rent.
But by this scourge the soul is cleansed,
And with new life it soars
Into the arms of its waiting mate,
And then to heaven's doors.
And so what matters the schemes of men,
When God is guard above?
Love laughs at locksmiths, and so we Can join and laugh with love.

DICK WEEKS, NIGHT HAWK, DEAD. White Light Women Raise $190 to Pay Cabman's Funeral.

Dick Weeks, long famous as driver of a night hawk cab in the Tenderloin, died in Bellevue Hospital last Monday. He was sixty years old, and years ago he had his stand before Harry Hill's place in Houston street. When that resort closed he moved Yesterday the women in the White Light Yesterday the women in the white Light district thronged to the hospital to look once more on the face of the man who had often befriended them. They had collected $190 and arranged with an undertaker for the burial.

Dick vill be buried to-day in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Long Island. The very Best AFTER ARREST, HYSTERICS.

DAZED WOMAN ACCUSED OF SHOP-LIFTING IN 6TH AVE. STORE.

Said She Was Mrs. Ellis, Wife of Insurance Man-Husband, Doctor and 2 Wemen and Gave Hall-Say She's an Invalid.

A woman wandering as if dazed about one of the Sixth avenue department stores yesterday afternoon caused the young women behind the counters to forget sales and watch her strange actions. At last she startled everybody, the store people say, by stepping up to a table and filling her must with trinkets. A bottle of perfume and some lace, the saleswomen allege also went into the muff, and half a dozen employees rushed through the store cailing for the detectives.

John Larkin and a woman sleuth were PARAGUAY AND URUGUAY, &C. soon at hand and they arrived in time, they allege, to see the woman help herself to a small leather pocketbook. Larkin told EDWARD C. O'BRIEN'S FUTURE, the woman she was under arrest and this seemed to arouse her from the dazed state she appeared to be in. After staring at the store sleuth for soveral minutes, she Odell Didn't Want the Job for O'Brien became hysterical and her screams could So Blessed, but Had to Take What He be heard all over the store.

Could Get-Senstor Blocked the Road "My God! what have I done?" she wailed. My husband will go crazy if he learns this. The prisoner was conducted to a waiting com, and after a time she became more nated Edward C. O'Brien of Platteburg composed. She said she was Mrs. Laura Ellis of 27 West Eighty-fourth street, and that her husband, Charles Baker Ellis, was how Mr. O'Brien got this place can be in the insurance business at 200 Broadway. Mrs. Ellis told Detective Larkin and other tary of State, Edward C.'s brother, joined | at the store that the was ill and that she had the Odell-Black combination to dethrone no idea of what she had done. The trinkets and other things taken were returned, and Senator Thomas C. Platt as Republican Mrs. Ellis offered, the detectives allege, leader of the State by taking from the to pay for them if the management of the ore wished her to do so. She had nearly $150 in her pocketbook. Mrs. Ellis was taken to the Tenderloin station and held on the charge of petty larceny. She said she was 38 years old, but looked older. She wore'a brown tailor made dress, a set of mink furs and considerable jewelry.

Despite her protests against notifying ber husband of her plight, Sergt. Robinson telephoned to the prisoner's home, and the woman's husband was soon at the station. Ho was accompanied by Dr. Theodore B. Barringer of 34 West Eighty-fourth street, who has been treating Mrs. Ellis for some time. According to Mr. Ellis and Dr. Barringer the woman's property and the stationary of the stationary candidate for Secretary of the Panama Canal Commission, but Senator Platt, con-versant with the conduct of John F. O'Brien in turning out Walter C. Witherbee as State committeeman, declared that Edward C. O'Brien should never be secretary of the Panama Commission while he was alive Barringer, the woman underwent an operation two years ago, and was for a long time in different hospitals. Mr. Ellis also says that his wife used morphine to relieve pain. He and Dr. Barringer got a bondsman for the prisoner and she was accompanied to her home in a carriage by two women friends who followed Mr. Ellis and Dr. Barringer to the station ho When she was led from the cell in wi she was locked up and confronted by her friends in the station house, Mrs. Ellis broke down and wept bysterically.

Detective Larkin, when he took Mrs.
Ellis to the station, said that neither he nor any others in the store had ever seen the President Roosevelt that he thought Edward C. O'Brien deserved some recognition. Just why Gov. Odell didn't say. The Presidential scampaign, though, was on, and President Roosevelt took under consideration Gov. Odell's suggestion that Edward C. O'Brien be provided with a place, which was the recognition Gov. Odell asked for. So last November, after election day, when Gov. Odell turned up in Washington, just after President Roosevelt had said that he would never recognize Odell as State boss of New York, President Roosevelt, speaking of Edward C. O'Brien to Gov. Odell, said:

"Governor, I have found a place for Edward C. O'Brien, of whom you spoke some time ago. I am to send him as Envoy to Paraguay and Uruguay." she was doing," said Larkin, "but there was nothing for me to do but arrest her." Mrs. Ellis will be arraigned in the Jeffer-son market police court this morning. Dr. Barringer said last night to a SUN reporter:

"Mrs. Ellis has been a patient of mine for three or four years. She has a chronic disease affecting the arteries in her hand and has had five operations. She suffers terrible pain at times and is obliged to take very powerful drugs. Without any question she was entirely irresponsible and any one could have seen that. In fact, her condition is one to excite pity. She is a to Paraguay and Winister Pienipotentiary to Paraguay and Uruguay."

"What does Platt say to that, Mr. President?" Inquired Gov. Odell.

"Oh, Senator Platt is agreeable; he makes no objection." replied the President.

"Then I don't want O'Brien to have the place," replied Gov. Odell. "I don't want the place for him."

President Rosesvelt then made it your any one could have seen that. In fact, her condition is one to excite pity. She is a lovely mother and has a comfortable home and all the money she needs. She is an extremely sick woman, although able to go out alone at times."

Dr. Barringer said that he intended to appear in court in behalf of Mrs. Ellis.

President Roosevelt then made it very plain to Odell, as only President Roosevelt can, that he would not permit Odell or anybody else like him to play that kind of politics with him. Odell left disgruntled, and soon departed for Europe, and President Roosevelt has made Edward C. O'Brien Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Paraguay and Uruguay. THREE MEN ARRESTED. While Store Detective Larkin was holding on to Mrs. Ellis a shop girl shrieked for help from another part of the store. Two men, she said, had taken advantage of the detective's absence to lift a gold fob, Larkin turned Mrs. Ellis over to some of the girls, and made a double capture. The rs gave their names Rosenblum and Joseph Green. Rosen-blum had a .22 calibre hammerless revolver blum had a .22 calibre hammerless revolver in his stocking.

That wasn't all. As he was walking uptown after the triple arrest, Detective Sergeant Frank Peabody of the Tenderloin station heard cries for help from another uptown department store. He found Rose Meenagh, the store detective, pointing at a man who was scurrying out of the store. Peabody followed and caught him. His name went down on the books as Thomas Taylor, and he is charged with stealing $13.59 worth of trinkets.

RALLY ROUND J. J. MARTIN. Champe Andrews Says Reynolds Is Jules

Bash's Candidate. The leadership of James J. Martin, the Tammany executive committeeman of the Twenty-seventh Assembly district, was indorsed with a whoop last night at a meeting of the local organization, and a committee of fifteen was appointed to issue an address to the enrolled voters in favor of his candidacy to succeed himself at the next primary election. Among the members of the committee is J. Sergeant Cram, the chairman of the is J. Sergeant Cram, the chairman of the general committee of Tammany Hall and a close friend of Charles F. Murpny. This, it is said, leaves no doubt as to where the organization stands. Among the others on the committee are DeLancey Nicoll, Samuel Untermyer, Justices Gildersleeve and Scott and Champe S. Andrews.

The feature of the meeting was a speech which Mr. Andrews made urging a resolution of confidence in Mr. Martin. He pitched into Thomas L. Reynolds, who is seeking the leadership. He said that Reynolds's backers were headed by Jules Bash, the "cotton specialist" who was arrested last week on a charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Mr. Andrews read the account of Bash's arrest which appeared in The Sun on March 12. Continuing he said:

"Now, our friend Bash, in his effort to fight honest men and methods, looks over

"Now, our friend Bash, in his effort to fight honest men and methods, looks over the district for a suitable man to be the leader of the mud slingers, and in Bash's circular we are told that 'After a careful canvass of the field the committee decided upon the selection of Mr. Reynolds as a man whose vigorous personality and astute character most fitted the requirements."

Reynolds. Mr. Andrews said, is not a character most fitted the requirements."

Reynolds, Mr. Andrews said, is not a resident of the district, but lives at 415 West 146th street. "In 1900," Mr. Andrews said, "he ran against McAvoy in the Twenty-third and was defeated. In 1901 his man Minton tried the same trick and failed. In 1903 his man Dooley got the same dose. In 1904 Dooley refused to run again and Reynolds, seeing that he is known too well in his own district, comes down here where we don't know much about him, but where we are learning about him fast.

we don't know much about him, but where we are learning about him fast.

"There is really no reason to treat him seriously or to regard his candidacy in the light of anything else save a joke. I do not think it will be necessary for us to refer to him again at another meeting of the committee."

STAGE SUPPER FOR THE GOULDS. Robert Edeson Entertains Them at the

Hudson and Gets a Floral Football. Robert Edesorf entertained Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould and a party of friends at supper on the stage of the Hudson Theatre The Wilcox Company

271 Breadway, N. Y

Plenty of proof and details last night after the performance of "Strongheart." The party occupied boxes at the performance and at the close of the second act sent Mr. Edeson a floral piece representing a football, split open and filled with orchids and violets.

APENTA

NATURAL HUNGARIAN APERIENT WATER

FOR A

GOOD COMPLEXION

THE WOMAN who values the freshness of her skin, bright eyes, glossy hair, and sweet breath, must remember that close rooms, rich diet or late hours, are her most powerful enemies, and that a slight aperient, such as a small wineglassful of APENTA WATER, taken every morning before breakfast, is one of the greatest aids to HEALTH and therefore BEAUTY.

Sole Exporters: THE APOLLINARIS CO., Ld., London,

WATER TALK TO THE BUILDERS to be congratulated on the success you have attained."

DELANY ASKS THEM TO HELP THE MAYOR'S BILL.

The Rettring Officers of Their League Who Led the Fight Against the Labor Unions Dined and Complimented-C. L. Eldlitz Says Keep Your Independence.

Fully 600 sat down last night to a very moist dinner given by the Building Trades Employers' Association as a testimonial to the officers who will retire in April after two years service. Mayor McClellan was scheduled as one of the many speakers on the list, but he sent regrets, explaining that he was busy getting a supply of pure and wholesome water for New York.

Water seemed foolish to speak of at this dinner, but when Corporation Counsel Delany rose as the Mayor's substitute and spoke burning words on water, the diners did not strike, because builders hate strikes; they listened. They gave three cheers for the Corporation Counsel. "Don't forget the tiger!" shouted some Corporation Counsel Delany said in part: "No class of citizens can better realize the necessity for a large supply of pure and wholesome water for New York than you builders. Builders are the recorders of past civilizations. Some have doubts about the confusion of tongues at the Tower of Babel in these days of labor troubles of Babel in these days of labor troubles and misunderstandings, but we find it remains to-day, thanks to the builders.

"Saturated as you are now—though not with water—don't forget the principle of the Mayor that the limits of a city are its water supply. It cannot extend further than its water supply. This is not a political measure of the Mayor's, but only for the good of the city. The bill provides for three Commissioners not nominated by the Mayor. One is selected by the Chamber the Mayor. One is selected by the Chamber of Commerce, which is non-political, one by the Board of Fire Underwriters and one by a civic body in Brooklyn. Their salary, $12,000 a year, is large enough to induce any man to devote fifteen or twenty years of his mature life to the work. It will be fine interest to any political party to reof no interest to any political party to reof no interest to any political party to remove these men.

"In twenty years New York will have about 5,000,000 people. You see, then, that we must have pure water. Gov. Higgins is now with us on this proposition, and we ask you, whatever your politics may be, to assist us in passing this measure. It will take at least ten years to fulfil the plan it lays down, but what a gain to New York."

be done to the retiring president, Charles L. Eidlitz, who led the association to victory against the unions. To which Mr. Eidlitz responded:

"Many, many times you have asked me not to talk, but I couldn't deep silent. Now you have me almost speechless. Gentlemen, you have suffered much to achieve the present state of independence of the association, but you have succeeded. Don't let it sink into the background now, and into the condition in which you found it two years ago."

John Beattie spoke on the necessity of organization, saying that prior to the formation of the association the basest and meanest methods were pursued by many of the so-called leaders of labor.

"We have not yet reached the ideal condition," said Mr. Beattie, "but you are

PUBLICATIONS.

"The Gentleman from Indiana in Politics"

IN THE ARENA

"So keenly true are the pictures one is sure that the author's real experience in politics has proved a spur to his

Louisville Courier Journal

By BOOTH TARKINGTON Cloth 12mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

By the author of Dr. Luke of the Labrador

THE WAY OF THE SEA

Wonderful stories of life among the fisher folk of Newfoundland. The author has taken the simple theme of humble folk and invested them with the magic at the imagination.

By NORMAN DUNCAN

Cloth, 12mo. Frontispiece by Howard Pyle. $1.50.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO., 44 East 23d St., New York.

to the skilled workman therein. Fair play and fair pay is our policy, and will continue to be so. Out of the thirty-two unions that signed the general arbitration plan twenty-five have kept their agreements. Convinced that this association cannot be coerced no union now a party to the plan is likely to engage in a strike foredoomed to failure. In the coming year business will failure. In the coming year business will be practically undisturbed by disputes between capital and labor."
Other speakers were Benjamin D. Traitel and Francis E. Ward. Resolutions complimenting the retiring officers were adopted. In Honor of James J. McCabe. James J. McCabe, district superinten-

Louis Harding dealt with the future of the organization and prophesied that "this association, which has just come unscathed from a fusillade of falsehood, is destined to become more and more potent for good, not only to the building business but also to the skilled workman therein. Fair play dent of schools and the president of the Lincoln Club of Brocklyn, was the guest of honor of the club at the Putnam avenue clubhouse last night, the occasion being in honor of the expira-tion of his term as president. Among the speakers who declared the honor all theirs in being rewritted to save a word for "Suprein being permitted to say a word for "Sunny Jim" McCabe were Dr. William H. Maxwell, city superintendent of schools; the Rev. Dr. S. Parkee Cadman, James D. Bell, Thomas P. Peters, Jr., and former Supreme Court Justice Van Wyck.

BLOCKED AGAIN BY KERENS. Senatorship Election With a Compromise Man Falls in Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 14 .- Again the followers of Richard C. Kerens blocked the election of a United States Senator. the election of a United States Senator. With no objection save that he is a friend of National Committeeman Thomas J. Akins, the Kerens bolters refused to-day to support Judge Seldon P. Spencer of St. Louis after the Niedringhaus forces had almost entirely withdrawn from the race. Before the balloting began to-day, Mr. Cook of Howell requested that all "Federal and Akins officeholders" be removed from the floor of the House. Presiding Officer McKinley ordered the sergeant-at-arms to clear the floor. Seven pairs were announced, 82 being required to elect. The last ballot was: Cockrell, 76; Spencer, 65; last ballot was: Cockrell, 76: Sp

Kerens, 16: Niedringhaus, 4: Bartholdt, 1. The joint assembly then adjourned. In accordance with the resolution adopted at last night's conference, the Niedringhaus men will again vote for Spencer to-morrow.

When You Do Nothing But Cough

to take and quickly relieves. It soothes and heals. Use it for sore throat and hoarseness. Sold by all druggists.

MARRIED.

BENEDICT-HARPER.—At the Church of the In-carnation on Tuesday, March 14, 1805, by the Rev. William M. Grosvenor, D. D., Uriting, daughter of J. Henry Harper and Le Grand L.

SMITH-MORA.—Antonine Mora, daughter of the late Antonio and Frances J. Mora, of New York, to Charles Herbert Smith of Springfield, Mass. at New London, Conn., March 14, 1905. VHITE-RISK .- On Tuesday, March 14, 1905, at Bashop.—Mary Cunningham, wife of the late Heber R. Bishop, in the 64th year of her age, Monday, March 13, 1905. Funeral services will be held at the Brick Presbyterian Church, 87th st. and 5th av., on Wednesday morning, the 15th inst., at 10:30 o clock.

HAIGHT.—At 48 East 80th st., March 18, 1805, Annie, wife of Edwald Haight and daughter of the late Francis Watson, Lurgan, Ireland.
Funeral services at the Church of the Holy Communion, 20th st. and 6th av., on Wednesday merning, March 15, at 11 o'clock. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

HOLLINGSWOPTH, Chr. 2015. OLLINGSWORTH .- On Sunday, March 12, 1905, CEMETERIES.

is readily accessible by Hariem trains from Grand Central Station, Webster and Jerome Avenue troileys and by carriage. Lots $125 up. Tele-phone (4855 Gramercy) for Book of Views or repre-

OFFICE, 20 EAST 23D ST. N. Y. CITT.

Stephen M. Wright asked that all honor get a bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pleasant > Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in One Minute.

Calvary Church, Summit, N. J., by the Rev. Walker-Gwynne, Margaret Henderson, daughter of the late William H. and Sophia W. Risk, to Benjamin V. White.

DIED.

ARMSTRONG.—On Sunday evening, March 12, 1905, James Armstrong, in his 73d year.
Funeral services on Wednesday, March 15, at 2:30 P. M., from his late residence, 249 President at.
Brooklyn. Interment private.

Henry S. Hollingsworth, widower of Catherins
J. Hollingsworth, in his 60th year.

Relatives and friends, also trustees of German Savings Bank, Broadway Bank, Progressive Lodge No. 354, F. & A. M., Crusaders Lodge No. 61, I. O. O. F., Arion Singing Society, are invited to attend the funeral services at his late residence, 1148 DeKaib av., Brooklyn, on Wednesday, March 15, at 8 P. M.

OUTHWICK.—In Brooklyn, March 14, Argent

SOUTHWICK .- In Brooklyn, March 14, Annie, daughter of the late Henry C. and Julia C. Funeral services at her late home, 677 Van-derbilt av., Wednesday afternoon, March 15, at 3:30 o'clock. Interment in Albany, N. Y.

THE WOODLAWN CEMETERY